

CAROLE HYDER ART

CAROLE HYDER

Moving it to a space where all things are possible

Artwork has the potential of opening the eyes and the hearts of those who look upon it, providing them inspiration and fearlessness. If the style, color, texture and/or overall message is aligned with the viewer and their specific intention, artwork can move them to a place where all things are possible. If a viewer is not changed by their artwork, then they have merely surrounded themselves with meaningless notions.

Because of my extensive background and experience in Feng Shui, I am aware of the impact an environment can have on someone. Color, furniture arrangement, traffic flow, directions, and artwork have the potential of opening the eyes and hearts of those who live or work within the space.

It is my purpose that the images seen here — their style, colors, textures and message — can align with the viewer and their specific intentions, providing them inspiration, joy, and grace to move them to a place where all things are possible.
